Why come to the western plains of Kansas to attend
Fort Hays State?

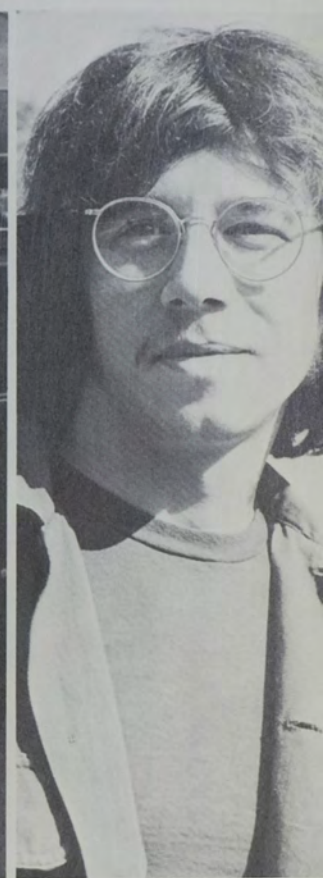

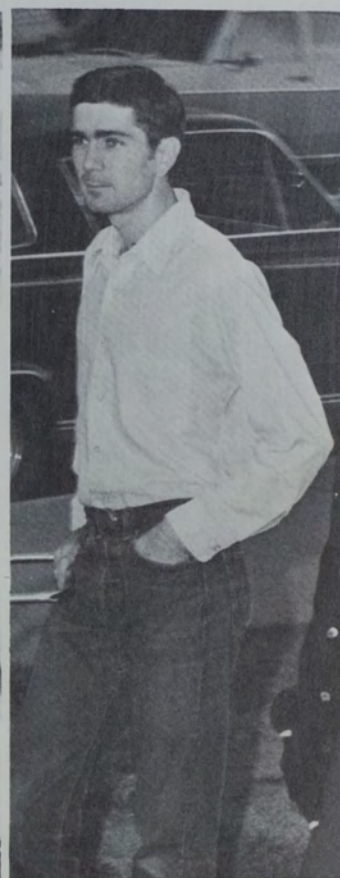

To get involved,
to be where it's at,
to find friends,
to learn.
The Reveille, 1971, is dedicated to these students,
the Faces of Fort Hays State.

The whites,
 blacks,
 yellows,
 browns,
 and reds,
 the thin,
 and not so thin,
 the short and tall,
 the genius
 and flunkie,
 the introvert
 and extrovert,
 the young and older,
 all find freedom at Fort Hays.

Freedom to think,
be themselves,
to go without socks.

College students are unique individuals,
no one else,
eats as much,
drinks as much,
wonders as much,
dates as much,
reads as much,
shoots the bull as much,
and still enjoys life
as much.

College life at FHS can be binoculars and McMindes Hall, hanging up on a midnight
prankster,
having your favorite night
spot burn to the ground, going to Girls Night Out, transporting by motorcycle.

It can be paying $3 to hunt
for a parking space, coping with September drizzles,
and unheated dorms,
renewing school spirit, working your way through and going to one of the friendliest colleges in the midwestern states.

First intersession proves beneficial

b▲

a. Students discover enrollment for Fort Hays' first intersession considerably simpler than regular term procedures.

b. As one of the most popular courses during intersession, bowling is taught according to the internationally utilized Brunswick method.

c. "The House," newly added to FHS, opens the way for free-flowing communication for those in need of advice or just seeking relaxation. Operating 24 hours a day, "The House" can be reached by dialing 628-1041.

Performers supply stirring entertainment

b ▲

c ▼

- a. Segovia, a world renowned guitarist, entertains his audience with intricate fingering patterns and unusual artistic flare.
- b. Earning a standing ovation, members of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet Company exquisitely perform original ballet.
- c. Interpretation of strong emotion never evades the capabilities of Fort Hays performers in their rendition of the dramatic opera "The Tender Land."

New basic study program passes

Updating the present basic studies program was the work of the General Education Committee, composed of four students and eleven faculty members.

Although the new program is similar to the present requirements, it does allow for a degree of flexibility. Instead of one set of standards for all students, the program will permit the student and his advisor to select courses beneficial for the individual.

Approved by Dr. Gustad, the program will go into effect fall term of 1971. Then, as changes are needed, they will be implemented.

a. Critically analyzing each word of the speaker, Student Senate members work toward a curriculum change.

b. Suggesting a less radical change by student senate, faculty worked for a reasonable compromise.

c. Hilarious sets, characters and interesting costumes, "get it all together" for the successful Canadian Opera Company, presenting "Orpheus and the Underworld."

c▼

- a. The switch of riders in the women's bicycle race during Furlough creates a frantic fury.
- b. Spring football trainees battle it out in the traditional Black and Gold game.
- c. Precision and an immense effort always prove to be a determining factor in the men's bicycle races.

Furlough, Derby Days — traditional fun

a. Participants in the Little Furlough during Derby Days find laughing and peddling aren't the most advantageous combination.

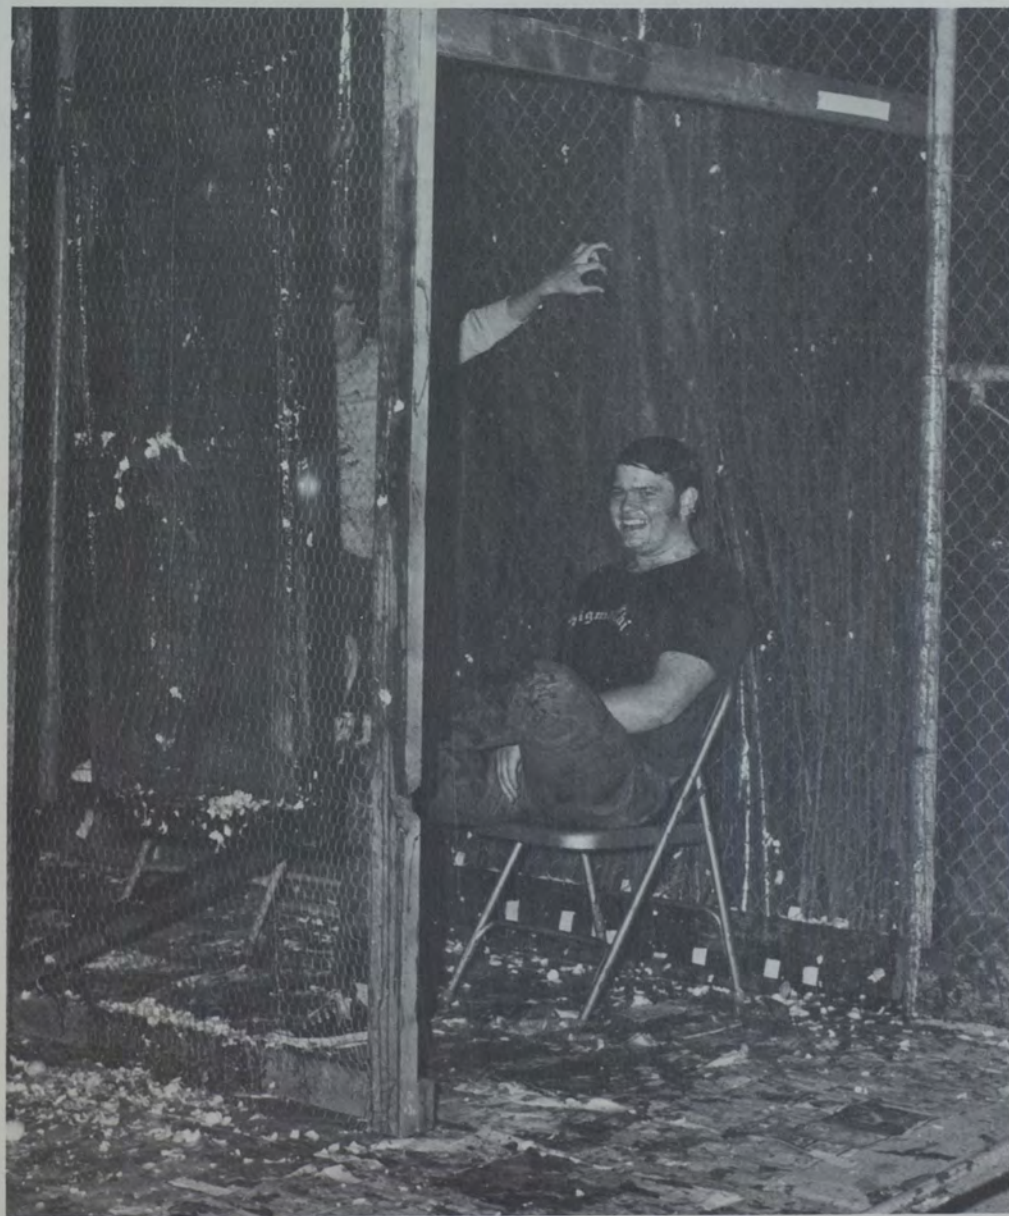

b. "Get that derby," cries an exasperated Sigma Chi chaser to her team member.

c. Attendants at the AWS carnival had the opportunity to salve their anxieties by beating this Sigma Chi man in the fraternity's Egg Throw.

b▲

Controversial speeches challenge opinion

a. Living the gay life of Mark Crowley's "Boys in the Band" gave Little Theatre dramatists a chance to demonstrate their talents.

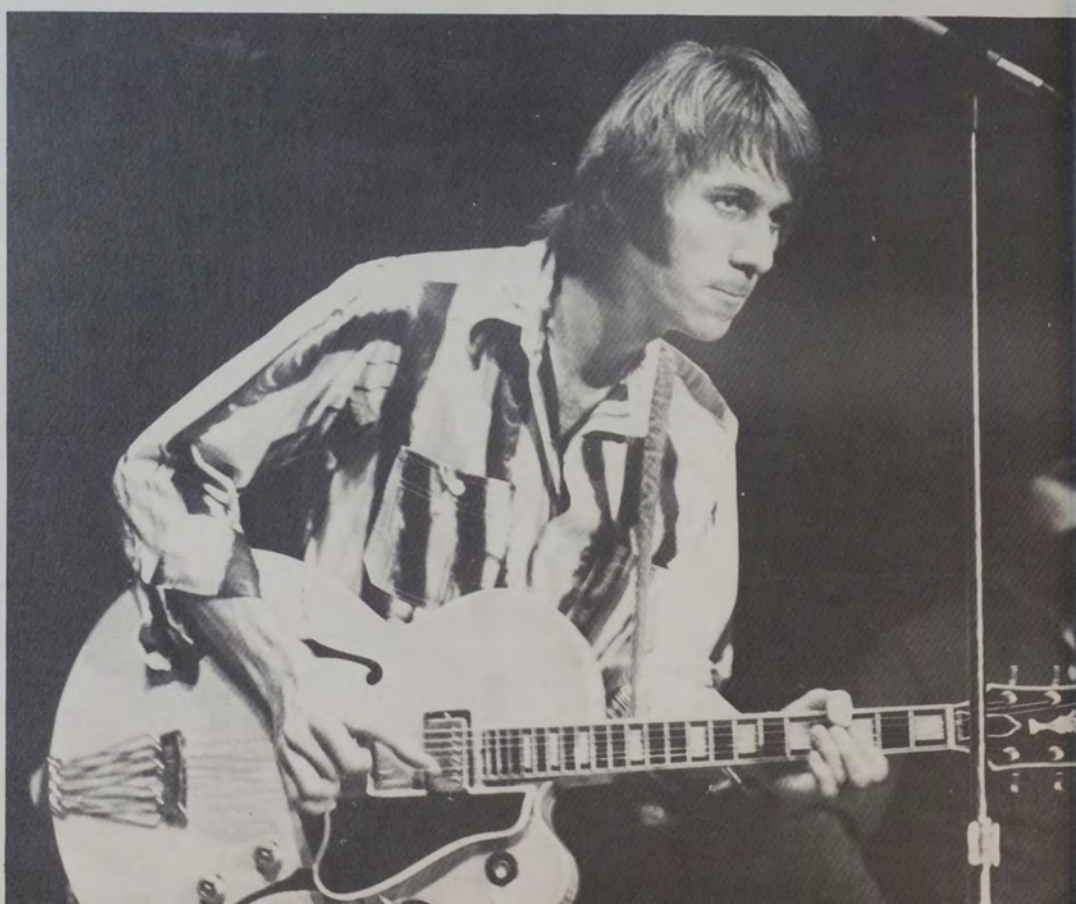

b. Sometimes, we just want to play.

c. Gary Puckett and the Union Gap entertain a standing room only crowd with songs that made them famous.

b ▼

a. Evidently interested in youthful opinions at the spring Student Rights Rally, this listener records their words.
 b. Presenting his views of Nixon's policies, New York Senator Charles Goddell is featured through the Controversial Speakers Series in April.
 c. Students and faculty listen intently at the Student Rights Rally.

HPER Complex Started in March

Even though adverse weather conditions controlled the day, ground-breaking for the new HPER complex went on as scheduled in the Black and Gold room of the Union.

Speakers presiding at the affair were Governor Robert Docking, Pres. John Gustad, Athletic Director Cade Suran, Mayor Louis Bieker and Student Body Pres. John Petty.

Graduation of 1283 breaks records

b▼

May 14, 1971 marked the end of school for 990 seniors who donned their caps and gowns with over 300 graduate students.

Preceded by faculty and dignitaries, the long processional of 1283 graduates filed onto the field as friends tried to pick them out.

Everyone sat under a clear and expansive sky to hear New York resident Miss Martha Peterson extol the beauties of Kansas, her home state. In her address entitled "The New Pioneer," she challenged each of them to be big enough to meet the challenges of life be it marriage, the military or another employment agency. But whatever they do the Faces from Fort Hays will be etched on their memories.

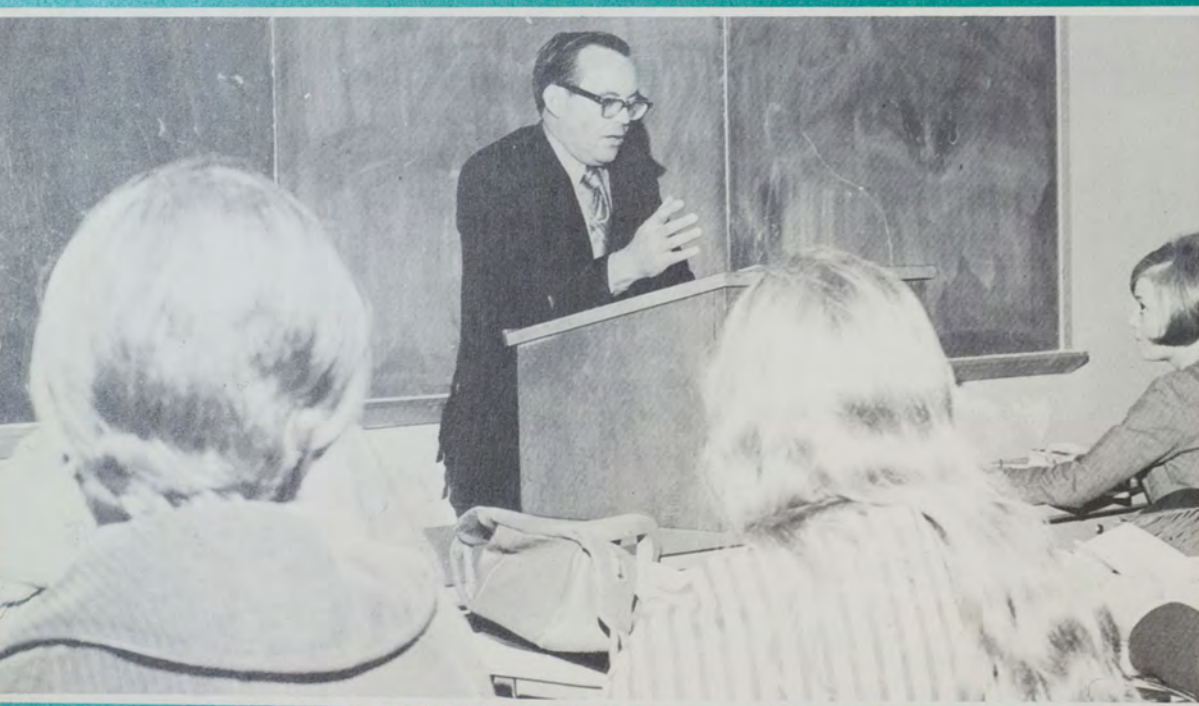

a. As the graduates organized themselves into lines for their march into the stadium, they tell jokes and reminisce to help make the wait seem shorter.

b. President of Barnard College, Miss Martha Peterson, speaks of how the life on the plains helps the new pioneer to meet the struggles of the future.

Campus hierarchy — policy originators

Arriving in Kansas during the 1969 summer, Fort Hays State College President John W. Gustad and his family are enjoying their second year as the college's first family. Claims Dr. Gustad: "It's refreshing to be among people who appreciate opportunity to go to college. We like Kansas, we like the people, and we like this college."

Inaugurated as Fort Hays' fifth president, Dr. Gustad is a firm believer in a liberal arts education and admires the "fun to learn" attitude evident among first-generation college students.

- a. Dr. and Mrs. Gustad enjoy a refreshing moment with Dr. Howard Reynolds at a faculty reception.
- b. Dr. John W. Gustad, the fifth president of Fort Hays State.
- c. President Gustad heads for his haven, the driving range.
- d. Governor and Mrs. Robert Docking return from the field with Cade Suran, director of athletics.

Education division supervises five depts.

The Education Division controls five of the liveliest departments at Fort Hays: Education, Library Science, Industrial Arts, Home Economics and Health, Education and Recreation (HPER). Each department works with the majority of FHS'ers since Forsyth Library, fundamental physical education classes and education courses fall under the supervision of this division.

In the Education department itself, a constant pace of growth continues. Each year 450 to 500 senior level students enroll in the semester of professional courses or the teaching block, which prepares these students as educators. A program which will provide the opportunity for students to complete the semester of the teaching block in a multi-institutional center in an urban area is expected to be in operation by the fall of 1971.

Two new laboratories in plastics and electricity-electronics have been added in the Industrial Arts department to further facilitate understanding and industry demand. The department is in charge of the annual high school industrial arts fair.

Humanities division revises courses to align with changing academics

To express one's individuality through concrete manners, such as writing, acting, or painting, constitutes the goals of the Humanities division. In order to meet the current demand for a broader knowledge in linguistics, the English department has enlarged this area to include new courses in General Linguistics, Anglo-Saxon, History of the Language, and Modern Grammar and Usage.

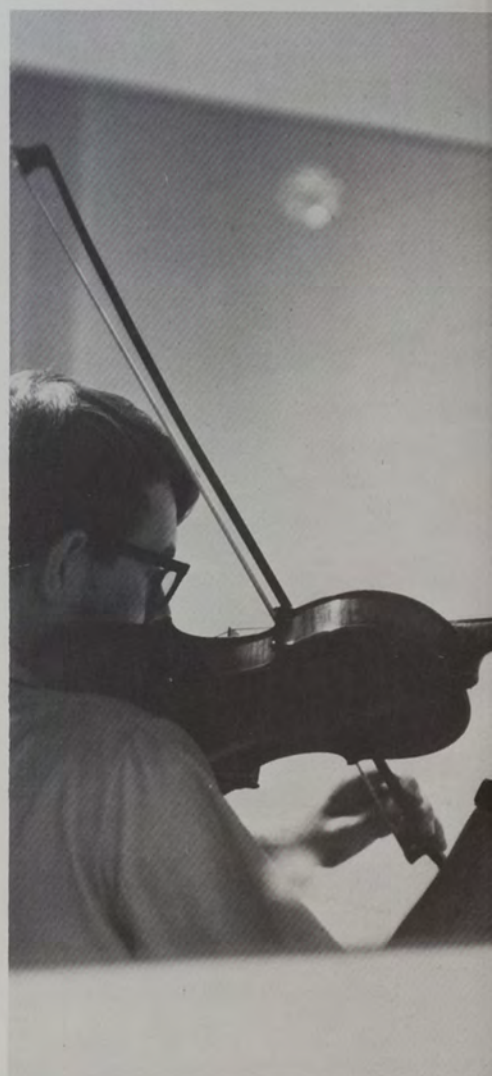

Another change effective next fall in the English departments is the return of classroom instruction in Introduction to Literature. This course was previously an independent study program in which the students relied on tapes and skull sessions in place of class-time lectures.

As is always true of the music, speech and art departments, this year was no exception in their ability to increase students' knowledge in these areas.

Natural sciences, mathematics division keeps pace with modern technology

Advancing as fast as contemporary research, all phases of education in the Natural Science and Mathematics Division are keeping pace with modern technology. This is particularly evident in the Biological Science and Agriculture department as recent concern over ecology grows. Dr. Neil Walker, chairman of this department, initiated revisions in the Agriculture curriculum, which resulted in four areas of concentration being offered ranging from agri-business to agronomy.

Another department keeping in stride is the Earth Sciences which is headed by Myrl Walker. Within the past year, the earth science area of geology has been authorized to offer graduate work which facilitates the department to produce well-rounded graduates.

Joining a two-state consortium for the advancement of physics education is probably one of the notable achievements of the Physics Department with Dr. Maurice Witten as chairman. The Fort Hays State Physics Department has joined with six colleges in Kansas and Missouri to form this consortium which is a three-year cooperative effort to advance the teaching of physics for the undergraduate student.

One of the biggest changes in the nursing program is the change to a full baccalaureate program and the awarding of the nursing degree, bachelor of science in nursing, which was given with the rest of the degrees in May for the first time at Fort Hays State to a senior class of 27.

Another change is in the addition of the public health nursing field practice course for seniors. This course prepares seniors for the proposed county-wide home-visiting nurse service for the sick.

Social, behavioral science division concentrates on man, his adaptations

"It's just an administrative change," is the way Dr. M. J. Little described the separation of business and economics into two departments, effective with the second semester. Concerned with placing graduates in the areas of business or collegiate education, these two departments play a prominent role in the development of Fort Hays enrollees.

Drawing attention this election year, the Political Science Department's Young Democrats backed First District congressional candidate, Bill Jellison, FHS dean of students.

Demanding qualified personnel, the continually expanding field of mental health provides increasing opportunities for psychology majors. Training students to efficiently function in applied settings remains the goal of the Psychology Department.

Promoting the Raymond Welty Memorial Lectures — to honor the late chairman of the History Department — is a primary project for the current department. A memorial Library Fund honoring Welty's services provides history books to supplement Forsyth Library's history section.

Stromgren's prediction rings true: Black and Gold bag 5-5 overall

"I'll be terribly disappointed if we are not at least a .500 football team," said Fort Hays State's second-year football coach Tom Stromgren. The team didn't disappoint the coach and turned in a 5-5 record for the 1970 season.

While the Tigers were only 2-3 in RMAC play, they were the only team to knock off conference winner Pittsburg State.

The Bengals bounced back from the "Dark Days '69" when they recorded a 0-9 record with mostly freshmen and sophomores.

1970 saw the Tigers set or tie 34 team and individual records. The majority of the individual work on the record book was done by Tommy Evans, John Woodworth, and Jonathan Douglas. Evans closed out his career as a running back by garnering three rushing records, one of which counted as a total offense record.

Douglas, the 5-8, 155 lb. quarterback, snared eight records for himself. His 1,521 yards total offense for the year is a new record, along with his 252 yards passing in one game and 1,325 yards passing in one season.

Woodworth came up with five records including 40 passes caught in one season, 700 yards gained in one season, and six scoring passes caught in one season.

Records set; Individuals make Honor teams

Four members of the 1970 team landed spots on the All-Conference team selected by coaches and players. Two each were selected for the honor on defense and offense, with senior tailback Tommy Evans the only repeater from a year ago.

Named to the offensive unit besides Evans was senior guard Jim Murray. Making the defensive squad for the Tigers were junior halfback Lionell Jenkins and middle linebacker Roy Humphrey.

b. 1970 Football Coaching Staff — Kneeling: John Covington, Larry Zienlein, and Ed McNeil. Standing: Jim Paramore, Head Coach Tom Stromgren, and Jim Hoppel.

After a 14-game losing streak, the Tigers ended the drought compiled over a two-year period, by winning the first game of the 1970 season. The final score found FHS defeating Missouri Southern at Lewis Field by a score of 36-29. A thriving crowd of 10,000 filled the stands for the second home game, only to see the Tigers fall to the Northwestern Oklahoma Rangers 27-3.

Venturing from the home gridiron for the first time, the Tigers could not catch Kearney State and fell short 30-21.

In their first RMAC encounter, FHS came from behind to pull an upset over Pittsburg State, 28-20, defeating the team that was later to be the conference champs. Playing at home once again, the Black and Gold pounded the Lcha-bods from Washburn, 27-8. The Tigers first RMAC loss was at the hands of Emporia State, 42-31.

Homecoming found the Tigers facing the University of Nebraska — Omaha before some 8,500 students, alumni and fans. The Tigers suffered a disappointing setback, losing 21-19.

Facing two road games, the Bengals went into high gear defeating both opponents in high scoring affairs. Southern Colorado was the first victim, falling 42-21. Next came a romp over Panhandle A & M 56-14.

The final game of the season was a chiller, both in the weather and in the score. Northern Colorado built an insurmountable lead in the first half and held on in the second to defeat FHS 55-34 and cooled all hopes of a possible bowl game bid.

Although disappointed in some games, the Tigers came through with a 5-5 tally for the season and can take a great deal of solace from their performance of this season over that of one year ago.

Head Coach Alex Francis again guided his cross country team to the RMAC championship and the NAIA District 10 titles this year. The runners also picked up another trophy for their efforts by placing second in the NAIA Nationals.

The victory in the RMAC meet runs the Tigers' conference string of championships to seven in a row, dating back to the now defunct CIC. Francis' harriers were trying for an unprecedented third national title in a row but came in second behind a tough Eastern Michigan team.

Top finisher for the Tigers was Alvin Penka in sixth spot, a placing that again makes the Odin junior an All-American. Freshman Tom Bradrick missed the elite squad by only one place as he finished 16th in the race which had 526 entries.

Only one letterman, Steve Boehmer, will be lost this year via graduation, so Francis' hopes are high for a tough team again next year.

Bengals earn champ standing in two tourneys, RMAC

Championships were abundant for the Tiger basketball team as the squad won the Holiday Tournament in Anaconda, Montana during Christmas break and captured two Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Titles, both the Plains Division and overall championships.

In the Christmas tournament, the Bengals defeated Carroll College and Western Montana State to claim first place. These were the first wins of the season away from Sheridan Coliseum.

The RMAC race proved to be just as rough as predicted by the conference coaches and sports writers. FHS's cagers could not claim the championship until the last game of the regular season, and even then a Southern Colorado win was the deciding factor.

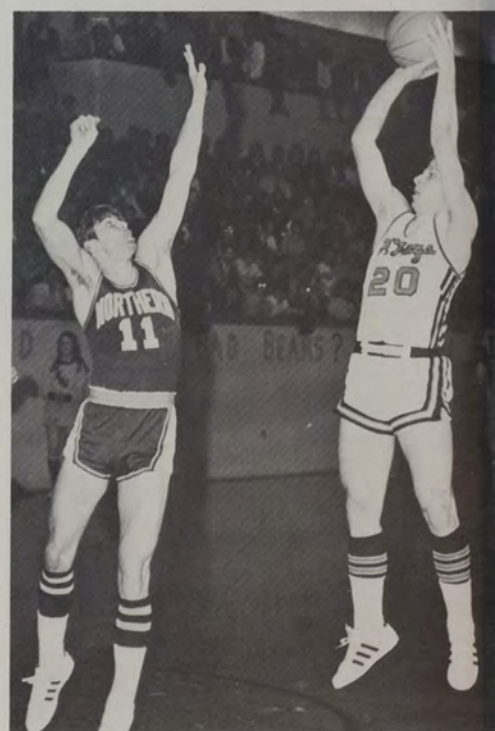

Before the last three games of the season, the Tigers were a game and one-half ahead of the University of Northern Colorado. By defeating Northern 97-73, the Bengals had clinched a tie for first place.

Two days after gaining the first place tie, the Tigers were out-classed by Southern Colorado, and there was still no undisputed winner of the Plains Division.

A strong Emporia State team was the last opponent for the Tigers and a 77-75 overtime Emporia win was the outcome. As a result, it was up to Southern to help FHS capture their first RMAC title. Southern did help by defeating Northern 78-75 in overtime. Thus, Fort Hays State finished the conference race 8-4, and second place Northern ended with a 7-5 mark.

In team standings of the Plains Division the Tigers ranked first in offense with a 78.0 points per game average. They were also first in team defense, holding their opponents to only 72.8 points per game.

Tigers cap season with 15-11 record

After claiming the Plains Division Championship, the next event on the Tigers schedule was a trip to Silver City, New Mexico and the overall RMAC championship game with the Mountain Division winner, Western New Mexico. The Mustangs finished the Mountain Division race with a 10-4 mark and had won 18 straight on their home floor.

The Tiger squad ended the home game winning streak and emerged as the overall RMAC Champion with a 101-99 overtime win over New Mexico. This was the second straight time that the Plains Division representative had captured the conference crown over their Mountain Division opponents.

Final action for the 1970-71 season was a game against Friends University in the NAIA District 10 Playoffs. Friends downed the Tigers in first round action 92-85.

This was the second straight year that the Tigers were able to compile the best overall record of Kansas schools in the RMAC and earn a berth in the playoffs. The loss to Friends gave the Tigers a 15-11 record for the season.

Junior varsity ends season 4-5

Fort Hays State's junior varsity basketball squad, under the guidance of graduate assistant Bob Bartkoski, finished the 1970-71 season with a 4-5 record.

In the rebound department freshman Gerald Gleason pulled down 8.1 caroms per game to lead the Tiger Cubs. Freshman Doug Thurman was second with 7.0 rebounds.

Cagers are champs; honors galore accorded Coach Brehm and Tigers

Fort Hays State's basketball team and coach received several individual honors at the conclusion of the 1970-71 season.

Cage captain Daryl Stockstill and his sharp-shooting teammate Dave Okeson both gained All-Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference and All-District 10 honors and were honorable mention NAIA All-America selections.

FHS was the only school in the RMAC and Kansas to place two players on the top all-conference and all-district squads.

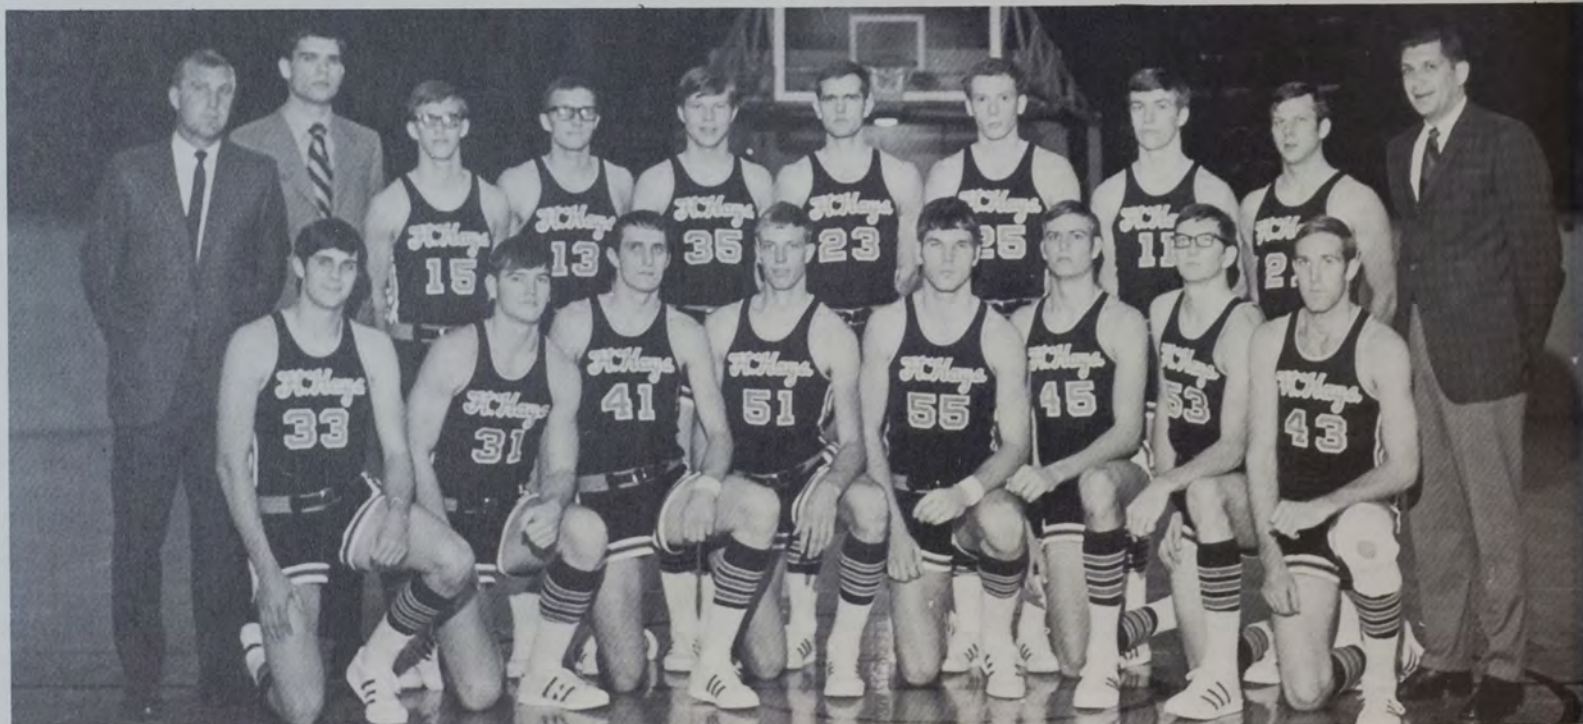

This was the second straight year that Stockstill was named to the three elite squads. In RMAC (Plains Division) competition he finished third in scoring behind Southern Colorado's Cal Tatum and Okeson. The Tiger Captain was also second in the division in rebounding behind Northern Colorado's Mike Bannister. Stockstill led the division in free throw accuracy, hitting at an .882 clip from the charity stripe.

Okeson, a junior college transfer, made a mark for himself in the RMAC by hitting 55 per cent of his field goal attempts in conference play. He was FHS's second leading scorer with a 15.6 season average, behind Stockstill who averaged 18.2 points per game.

Head Coach Chuck Brehm was honored twice for his accomplishments during the season. He was named the NAIA District 10 Basketball Coach of the Year and also Area III Coach of the Year by the national organization.

The Tiger basketball team grabbed a final post-season honor, the RMAC sportsmanship title. The Bengals won by a slim two-tenths of a point over Western State (Colo.) of the Mountain Division.

Gymnasts record Successful season

The 1970-71 season was a good one for the Fort Hays State gymnasts, as they topped all previous Tiger teams with a 9-2 dual record.

Led by captain Jim Green and Hector Aponte, coach Ed McNeil's Bengals fell to Nebraska University in the opener at Lincoln, then amassed seven straight wins before the University of Northern Colorado halted the Tiger's home win skein at 12.

Aponte led Tiger scorers throughout the season and finished with 325.80 points. He qualified for NAIA nationals in the all-around event, but didn't make the trip to Natchitoches, La.

In spite of injuries to key personnel and ineligibility, McNeil can reminisce on the season, and conclude with what he said before the season started. "We have more kids back than we've ever had back and I'm looking forward to a pretty good season."

McNeil is well on the way to an even better team next year since he won't lose any gymnasts via the graduation route, and the outstanding freshmen from this season's squad will have a year of experience under their belts.

Individuals spark Tiger matmen

Under the direction of first-year head coach Jim Hoppel during the 1970-71 season, Fort Hays State's wrestling compiled a respectable 10-8-1 dual meet record and built up a 6-0 mark in Sheridan Coliseum.

In the 1971 Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Tournament the Tiger grapplers captured sixth place with three individuals placing fourth for a total of 13 points.

FHS's individual finishers were 118-pound Mike Holliman, 150-pound Bob Brock and 177-pound Larry Feikert.

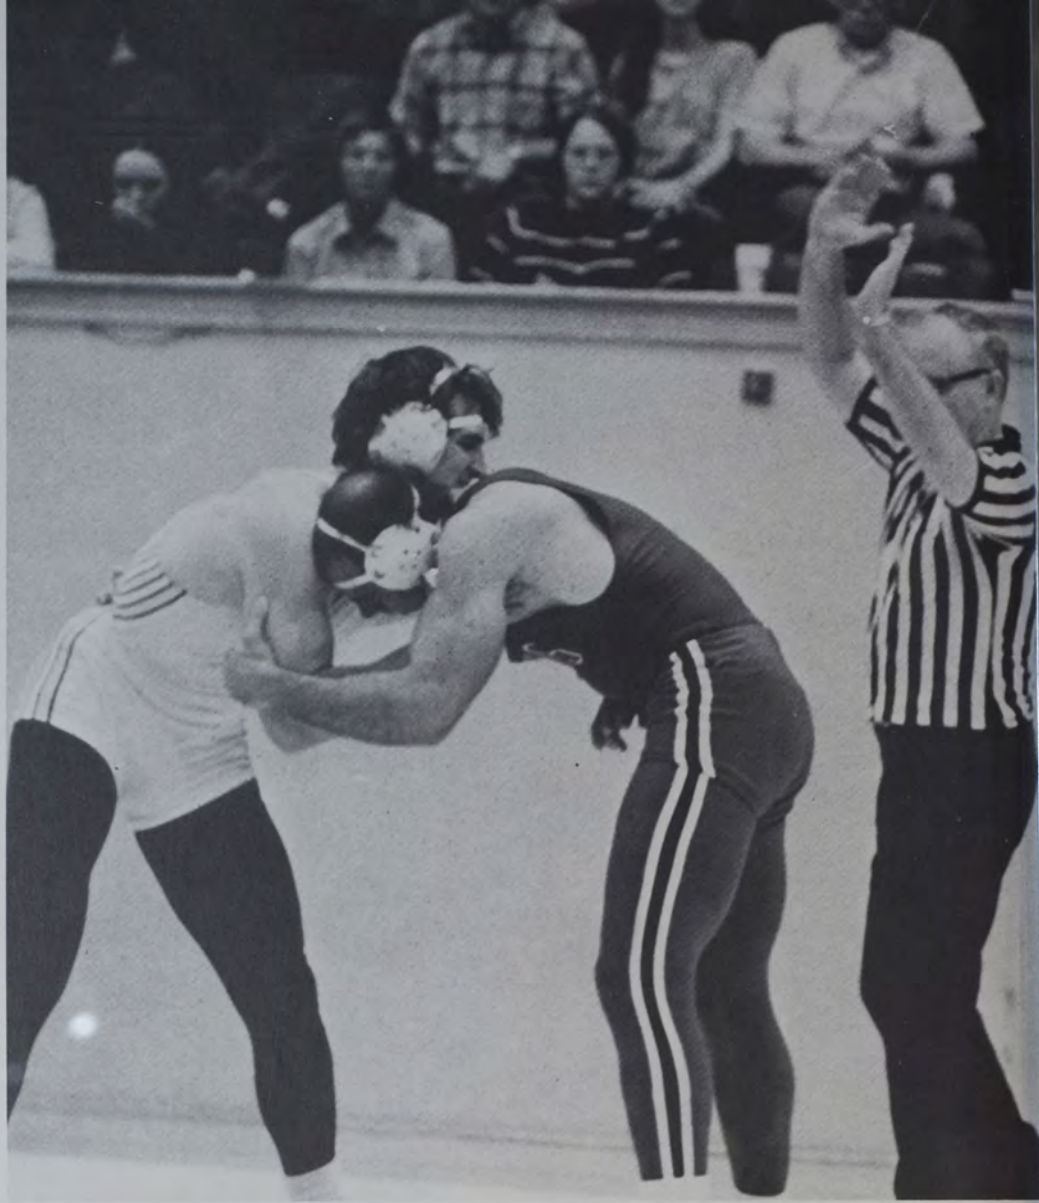

This marked the first time in the conference's three-year history that FHS placed more than one individual in the meet.

Three Bengal matmen traveled to Boone, N. C., in March to compete in the NAIA Wrestling Championships. The three Tiger entries were Holliman, Brock, and 142-pound Bob Brown.

The three grapplers picked up four points in the national tournament which featured 98 NAIA schools.

Top performers on the Tiger squad were Brown, Brock and 158-pound Leon Tresner who had respective dual meet records of 13-9-0, 15-8-2 and 12-7-1.

Five wrestlers from the 1970-71 team will be lost via the graduation route, but the outlook for next season is good with several experienced matmen returning for another year of action.

Fort Hays State's track team accomplished its goal for 1971 by capturing the RMAC track crown for the second time in the conference's three-year history.

In order to compete in the overall RMAC meet the Tiger tracksters had to participate in the Plains Division meet which they won by more than 50 points.

Other finishes throughout the season included ninth place in the NAIA Indoor Championships, first in the Emporia Relays and three dual meet wins. The thin-clads also competed in the KU Relays, Drake Relays, and Colorado Relays but were not awarded team places.

Mike Estes finished his career after setting the indoor and outdoor 440-yard dash records of 49.3 and 47.4 respectively. He also tied the indoor 220-yard dash mark of 22.5. In four years of competition Estes was defeated in the conference 440-yard dash only once. He placed second this season with a time of 47.9.

Marvin Ayers holds FHS records in indoor races of 60-yard dash, 6.3; and 60-yard high and low hurdles, 7.5 and 6.8. He also set marks in the outdoor 100-yard dash, 9.6; 220-yard dash, 21.4; and the 120-yard high hurdles, 14.6.

Bill Manning established a new school record in the javelin during the 1971 season with a throw of 243-4.

Fort Hays State's golf team wrapped up the 1971 season with a fourth place finish in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference playoffs, a fifth place in the NAIA District 10., and an overall mark of 13-6-1.

Top golfers for the Tigers were team captain Kelly Deines, Wa Keeney senior, who shot a 77.7 average and John Pekarek, Stockton freshman, who followed with a season average of 79.0.

The Bengals lose three-year lettermen Deines and Mike Schaefer, Wellington senior, from this year's squad.

baseballers compile second best season in history

Head Coach Earl Hobbs guided his 1971 Tiger baseball team to the second best record in Fort Hays State's history as the Bengals compiled a 23-16 mark.

The 1970 Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference champions were unable to defend their title this season as they were beaten by Southern Colorado State and the University of Northern Colorado in the RMAC area playoffs.

Senior Ron Koster led the Tiger hitting attack this past year with a .420 mark to rank him high in the nation in batting averages.

All-America Ken Dinkel, senior and Rich Maier, sophomore, led the diamond crew in homeruns. Maier ended up on top with nine and Dinkel was close behind with eight. Dinkel completed the year hitting at a .359 clip and Maier finished with a .307 percentage.

The 1971 baseballers were the best hitting team ever at FHS as their combined average figured out to be .297. The diamond crew eclipsed previous records in team totals for doubles, 48; triples, 15; and homeruns, 34.

Topping the list of achievements during the 1971 season were individual season records. Ron Koster's .420 average is the best for a Bengal baseballer and junior Frank Leo set a new mark with five triples for a single season.

Rod Ruder added another record to the books as he knocked out eight doubles. Pitchers Brian Bates and Vic Perri both established season marks in innings pitched per season.

FHS placed two players on the NAIA All-District 10 Baseball team for their performance during the season. Dinkel represented the Tigers at first base and Koster was named for his play at third base.

Intramurals give athletic opportunity to every student

Although participation in varsity athletics is limited to a relatively small per cent of the FHS student body, the Intramural Sports Program provides an opportunity for every student to compete in some type of activity, either individually or on a team.

Men and women alike participate in the program in such competition as bowling, softball, table tennis, and basketball.

Heading the entire program is Wayne J. McConnell, associate professor of H.P.E.R.

Victories kick off women's athletics in initial year

Along with intramural competition, women at FHS this year had the opportunity to compete in three inter-scholastic sports. Vying with several other colleges throughout Kansas, women fielded teams in basketball, volleyball, and softball.

The inter-school program got off to a good start in its initial year with all teams pulling out some victories. In addition, the softball team grabbed a first-place finish in the Salina Invitational Tournament.

GOVERNING BODIES

Student Senate desires communication

At its zenith, Student Senate functions as a representative voice of the students. Empowered to recommend policies to the Faculty Senate and to the President, this year's Senate set as its goal more effective communication between students and administration.

At mid-year when Senate members felt communications were failing among students and between students and administration, a resolution was proposed to dissolve the Senate. Negotiations began immediately, expressing the concern of both Senate and administration. Communication was increased, although problems remain.

M.U. Program Council resigns new board named

Union Activities Board replaced the Memorial Union Program Council after the original group, under the chairmanship of Ron Quint, resigned.

In a letter to the Leader, the Council listed the reasons for dissolving as: 1. programming not being aimed at student wishes, 2. activities booked being products of the hierarchy's friends, 3. the "La Cantina" not being opened in accordance with wishes and suggestions, 4. times for showing movies and other events were to the satisfaction of non-student organizations, 5. events with little interest to the students being scheduled, 6. events selected by Student Forum being cancelled because of disagreements about the budget, when Program Council was supposed to spend allocated funds as they desired. The letter ended with an apology to the student body saying, "We cannot continue as puppets."

Special events and programs offered to the students by both Boards were free movies, Tiger Hops, The Red Garter Band, Al Hirt, Gary Puckett, and co-sponsoring Walter Hickel.

CCC sets standards

Rigidity in general education requirements is a thing of the past at FHS. A year ago President Gustad appointed a committee of faculty members, administrators and students to devise a new program. The definition agreed upon by this Curriculum Change Committee holds that general education consists of a broadly based program designed to prepare students to continue their own educations throughout their lives — learning how to learn. To accomplish this, departments have developed new courses especially designed to meet the revised definition.

"The quality of each student's education is his own responsibility much more than before. He must think carefully and deeply about himself and his future to arrive at a pattern of courses that will serve his needs, his life," says President Gustad.

PERFORMING ARTS

Orchesis performs "Evening in Dance"

Orchesis, under the direction of Sarah Mangelsdorf, performed during the varsity band show, in the Luau at Homecoming, and at Claflin High School. Members gave a demonstration for Hays High and attended a K.U. workshop. The main show for Orchesis was in February; entitled Evening of Dance. Numbers featured at this performance were "Time" and "Ha!"

Dramatists in APO, Little Theatre

The purpose of Alpha Psi Omega was to stimulate interest in dramatic activities, secure for the college all the advantages and mutual helpfulness provided by a large national honorary, and by electing students to membership, serve as a reward for their efforts in participating in the plays staged by the college. Vicki McConnell was president.

Little Theatre, a working organization, required for membership a total of ten points which are acquired by doing a variety of things in the theatre. Steve Winkler headed the organization. This year's award winners for acting were: Harry Barnett, best actor; Glenda Burgett, best actress and best supporting actress; and Terry Schenk, best supporting actor.

Combined efforts of music dept., Little Theatre lend to opera's success

The Telephone by Gian Carlo Minotti and The Tender Land by Aaron Copland were two operas performed through the combined efforts of the music department and Little Theatre.

Donn Graham produced and directed the one-act comic opera, The Telephone. Bonnie Storm served as pianist for the production. With a cast of two, the opera depicted the story of a woman so involved with the use of her telephone she doesn't listen to her boyfriend's proposal of marriage.

The Tender Land was a three-act opera about the daughter of a rural midwestern family, who being overprotected most of her life, falls in love with a stranger and plans to elope with him on graduation day. When her prospective groom leaves town before the ceremony, she leaves home, and her mother transfers her protectiveness to the younger daughter and the cycle starts over. Patrick Goesser, Harriet Ketchum, William Segal, and Glennis Meier were the faculty production staff.

After winning five first-place rankings in State Competition, Fort Hays State vocalists represented Kansas at the regional auditions held by the National Association of Teachers of Singing. Competition in 10 categories was determined by hours completed in vocal instructions. Fort Hays vocalists received three fourth-place honors at the Regional in Dallas.

Fort Hays singers to entertain on USO Pacific tour next year

Fort Hays Singers, under the direction of Dr. Donald Stout, has been announced as one of 14 groups in the nation picked for an eight-week USO Pacific tour next year. The group performed frequently at banquets and conventions in western Kansas.

At the Kansas Music Teachers' Assn. state convention, the Concert Choir, also under the direction of Dr. Stout, performed Vincent Persichetti's "Celebrations." The composer was in attendance and discussed the work with the choir the following day. The choir, along with Hays High Choir, the orchestra and solosits, performed Bach's "St. Matthew's Passion" in the spring.

Seasonal concerts on Chorale agenda

A fall tour and a Christmas concert highlighted the first semester for Collegian Chorale under Patrick Goesser. At the Christmas concert the Chorale performed a newly edited work by Dr. Leland Bartholomew, head of the music department. This piece was "Magnificat" by Adriano Banchieri.

Along with singing at Marian High School and at other towns around Hays, a spring concert was given. A featured number in the concert and the appearances was the "Mass in G" by Franz Schubert.

Glee clubs provide singing enjoyment

The Fort Hays Men's and Women's Glee Clubs are open to college students who enjoy singing but do not necessarily have superior musical experience. Membership was determined by procedural audition. Donn Graham directed both groups.

Receiving one credit hour for two rehearsals a week, both groups sang for banquets and social events, as well as giving a complete concert each semester.

Able musicians in ensembles

Instrumental ensembles offered various means of musical expression to musicians at Fort Hays. Phyllis Schleich was director of the Recorder ensemble, Robert Brown director of the Woodwind Ensemble, and Harold Palmer director of the Clarinet Choir.

A concert and a tour highlighted the year's activities for both the Clarinet Choir and the Woodwind Ensemble. Members in these ensembles are select. Recorder Ensemble played for the Madrigal dinner. Membership in the ensemble was also based on ability.

Lyle Dilley directs FHS bands

Symphonic Band, under the direction of Lyle Dilley, performed in the varsity show and held two concerts as part of their regular schedule. Members also hosted a band workshop for five outstanding high school bands in the state of Kansas. A tour through western Kansas was a highlight of second semester.

Membership in the band was based on musical ability. Over the past three years the Fort Hays Symphonic Band has competed with major schools in a nine-state area to go to certain conventions and has gained national recognition by qualifying and attending.

Marching band was also under the direction of Dilley. The band performed at the half time of all home football games. Marching band members also belong to Symphonic Band.

Spanish, German language clubs Delve into European home lives

The primary purpose of Spanish Club was to function as a medium whereby students interested in the language and culture could assemble to converse in Spanish and learn of the customs of various cultures speaking the language. Activities of the club, under the control of Fred Deyoe, included programs on Spanish countries and informal meetings of listening to Spanish music and talking.

By meeting once a month, the German Club, with Phyllis Schmidt as president, saw films and slides on Germany and discussed German-oriented subjects. The programs delved further into the customs of the Germans, giving the members an insight into German life. A combined meeting of the French and German clubs at Christmas brought both groups' cultural interests together.

vent le français' aims French club

To promote interest and enthusiasm in the study of French was the prime goal of the French club. Throughout the year, the club enjoyed seeing films produced by the French department, reading French works, and experimenting with French recipes. Each member contributed to the club projects, which were supervised by president Theresa Heeke.

Chemistry club Offers scholarship

Chemistry Club, under the leadership of Susan Friesen, was designed to increase interest and open opportunities in chemistry and related sciences. Through the meetings, more was learned about the various phases of chemistry. Several members attended the American Chemical Society meeting in Nebraska. The club also provided a scholarship to one member.

SNEA — a pre-Professional group

As a pre-professional organization, the Student National Education Association offered opportunities for students preparing to teach or interested in education. To develop an appreciative understanding for pedagogy, the Student NEA held programs concerning the teaching profession. Marsha Dibble served as president.

Better special ed. Patterns promoted

Working in the various areas of special education, the Student Council for Exceptional Children strove to promote the improvement of special educational standards.

Under the direction of Shirley Horyna, SCEC members gathered Betty Crocker labels to help buy a bus for Lakemary Center at Paola and sponsored parties and recreation programs for exceptional children in the area.

Men, women's P.E. clubs hustle

Selecting new physical education major uniforms, sponsoring a softball sports day, and holding a fun night for the Men's Physical Education Club and faculty, were the activities of Eta Rho Epsilon, women's physical education organization. The group was headed by Mary Jane Palmer.

Men's Physical Education Club gave support to the Tigers by selling bumper stickers, decorating the football field, and making a float for homecoming. They sponsored the girls' free throw contest and attended several conventions concerning P.E. With Allan Heinze as president, the club promoted all aspects of physical education.

Worship centers cultivate peace

With increasing tension and frustration present, students find comfort in the area worship centers. Churches provide a good place to seek God and peace. Youth groups associated with various denominations offer fellowship and activities to the students. These include encounter and discussion groups, Sunday suppers, and Hayrides. S-O-C-approved

Dorm life: a multi-faceted experience

Dorm life is an adventure which most students experience as a segment of their learning process. For many it is the first step into the outside after being released from parents.

Visiting hours in each dorm were determined by its residents and were extended over last year's in most cases. Freshman women won release from the regimentation of hours when school resumed after spring break.

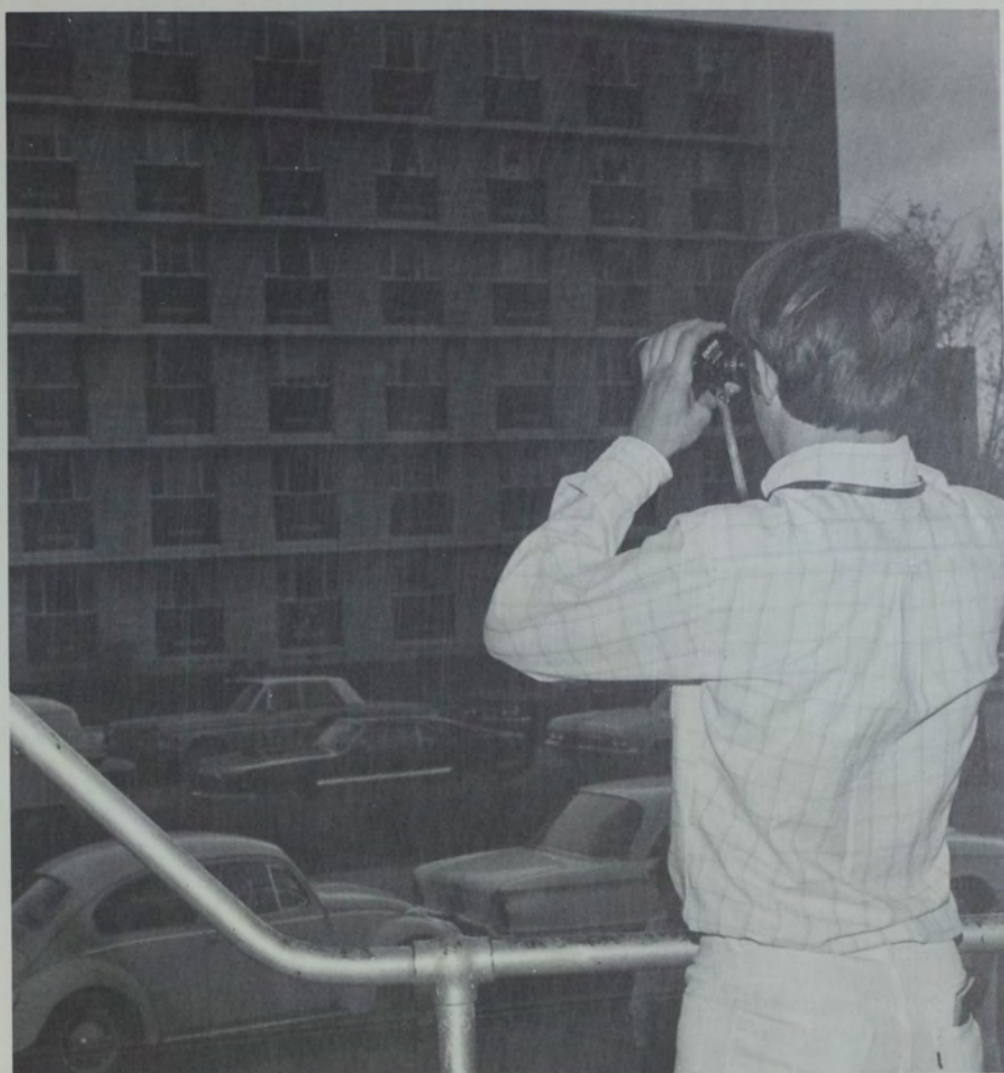

Life in the dorm can be a growing experience. It is a time for understanding oneself, learning to accept others with their faults and making life-long friends.

Dorm life is getting ready for early morning classes while your roommate is still asleep, window peeking, personal telephones and popcorn between meals.

These two pages and the following four have been devoted to the faces of dorm life in an effort to capture its typical happenings.

Dining, studying — everyday happenings

'Just like home' in many respects

Wiest hall sponsors homecoming queen

Serving as housing for men on campus, Wiest Hall was completed in 1961, with a new addition being completed this year. The hall was named for Dr. C. F. Wiest, professor of philosophy who drowned in the 1951 flood.

Not having its quota completely filled, Wiest served as housing for delegates attending the AWS and Residence Hall Council conferences held on the Fort Hays campus.

Wiest Hall residents also did not have their own food service. Consequently, they dined in one of the other three dorm cafeterias.

Wiest Hall sponsored Homecoming Queen Stella Howell, and actively supported the Tigers during the homecoming festivities with the appearance of a Renegade Tiger decorating the front part of the dorm. Men at Wiest also had the privilege of being the only dorm on campus with its own driving range for golfers.

McMindes — mighty residential fortress

Reigning like a mighty fortress over the other residence halls, McMIndes Hall is the newest and largest dormitory on the Fort Hays campus. Providing housing for 600 women, McMIndes was named in honor of Miss Maude McMIndes of Osborne, a retired professor of education who helped develop the block system for preparing teachers.

In close competition, McMIndes sponsored Sue Shaw as first runner-up in the Homecoming Queen selection. Homecoming festivities were also sparked by the prize winning Kazoo band from second floor west McMIndes. Another spark to the Homecoming parade was the McMIndes-Wiest float, "Gold and Black; Paw Power Attack."

McGrath — Agnew's small, mighty twin

Completed in 1955 and a twin to Agnew Hall, McGrath Hall serves as housing for men on campus. The hall was named for Dr. Robert T. McGrath of Hays, who served in the education department for 24 years and was a former head of the department.

Being a small dorm, McGrath has a friendly atmosphere and often residents enjoy group card playing. The boys, with the help of the housemother and resident managers, work together in preparing a continental breakfast since McGrath does not have its own food service. Spirit was demonstrated at McGrath by their homecoming float — Step Aside, Purple Power: Paw Power is Here — which won the second prize for spirit.

Custer — only coed dorm on campus

Custer Hall, built in 1921 is the oldest dormitory on campus. It was named for Mrs. Elizabeth Custer, wife of General George A. Custer, who was stationed at old Fort Hays with the famous Seventh Cavalry in the 1800's. Custer Hall became a coed dorm in 1968.

As a Christmas project for the community, Custer Hall again entertained the residents of Hillcrest Manor Nursing Home with Christmas carols and bingo.

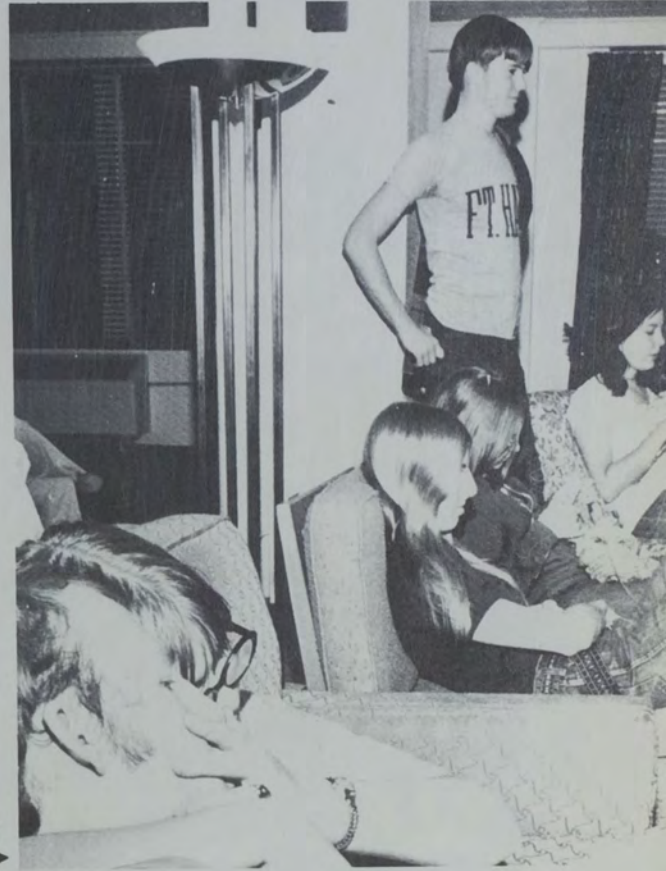

This year, Custer and Agnew Halls shared the first place prize on their joint float, "Skunk 'Em" in the most original float division of the Homecoming Parade. Pauletta Arnold represented the dorm as one of the top finalists vying for Homecoming Queen.

Agnew — home for 170 FHS coeds

Agnew Hall, named for the late Elizabeth Agnew who was a long-time dean of women on the FHS campus, was constructed between 1955 and 1957. A 1970 addition to the dorm was the installation of a new lighting system in the south library.

Like other dorms, Agnew food service sponsors special dinners. During the "Roaring 20's" dinner, Agnew flappers provided entertainment. Along with providing residence and food service, Agnew is also known for its "homey" atmosphere.

During homecoming activities, Agnew girls helped Wiest in supporting their Queen candidate. They also worked with Custer Hall in creating the 1st place float in the most original float division.

Off-campus living gains popularity

Evidently enjoying the freedoms and responsibilities of independence, nearly 75 per cent of Fort Hays State students choose off-campus housing as their residence while furthering their education. Off-campus residents also choose modes of living with the hopes of attaining privacy, economic advantages, and nuptial bliss.

Joint cooperation between college officials and townspeople allows accommodation of Fort Hays Staters. Various forms of housing in the Hays community frequented by students include basement and duplex apartments, homes, sleeping rooms and apartment complexes such as the popular collegian-dominated Campus and Hillcrest Apartments.

ΑΓΔ

From the beginning of school in the fall to graduation in May, the coeds of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority were an enterprising group.

Alpha Gams held positions in the campus organizations of Student Senate and WLO. Cheerleaders, Tiger Debs, Tiger Paws, Fort Hays Singers, and the Miss McMIndes and Miss Fort Hays pageants included these girls.

Colleen Chitwood served as president of Panhellenic Council; Karen Rolf was selected as an Outstanding Senior Woman. A team of six took top honors in the women's bike race of the 1971 Furlough.

Alpha Gams are noted for their zest in all aspects of campus life.

AKΛ

With such events as a "Go to Hell" fall informal and a "Spring Splash" formal, the men of Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity make their presence known at Fort Hays.

The AKL volleyball team remained undefeated while winning the all-school title. This aided in the chapter's conquest of second place in intramurals. Yoshi Fukasawa was the Greek Ping-Pong champion and Gary Beymer captured top honors in the all-school badminton tourney.

Working with the Tri Sigs and the Delta Sigs, the AKL's received the Spirit Award for their part in the 1971 Homecoming festivities.

It is evident that Alpha Kappa Lambda is an active and productive fraternity here on the Fort Hays campus.

Moving into their new home at 209 West 5th proved to be only one of many highlights of the 1970-71 Delta Sigma Phi year.

The fraternity brothers showed their skills in intramurals by capturing the all-school title in football and the all-greek competition in swimming and basketball.

And again the Delta Sigs made the news as they garnered a trophy during the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit for the most blood donated by an organization.

As president and housemother, Jeff Porter and Esther Steinle helped to make Delta Sigma Phi an asset to both the campus and the community.

ΔZ

Not to be outdone by others, Delta Zeta sorority has centered its life around the campus and the community.

DZ members headlined the papers with such titles as Best Dressed Coed, Derby Darling, Miss Fort Hays State, and head Tiger Deb.

With Phi Sigma Epsilon at their side, the DZ's snared the 1970 Homecoming Sweepstakes Award for the best float.

Formal and informal rush quotas were filled; intramurals were participated in; charitable deeds, such as putting together a care box for the Navajo Indians, were performed.

These activities and accomplishments prove that the college, the city of Hays and the girls themselves can be proud of Delta Zeta.

ΦΣΕ

Representatives of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity held offices in numerous campus organizations as well as participating in many events at Fort Hays.

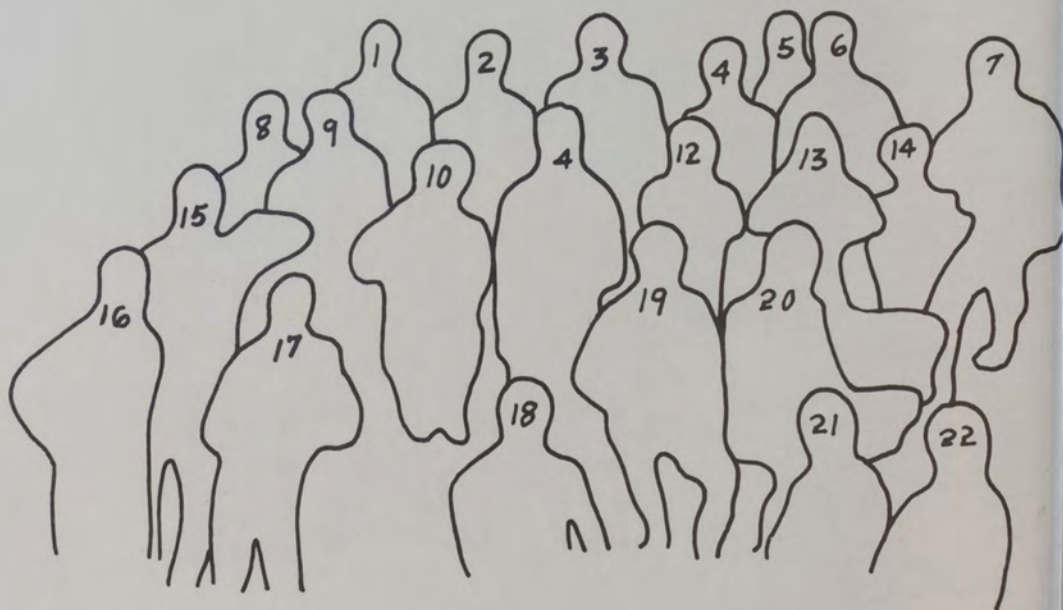

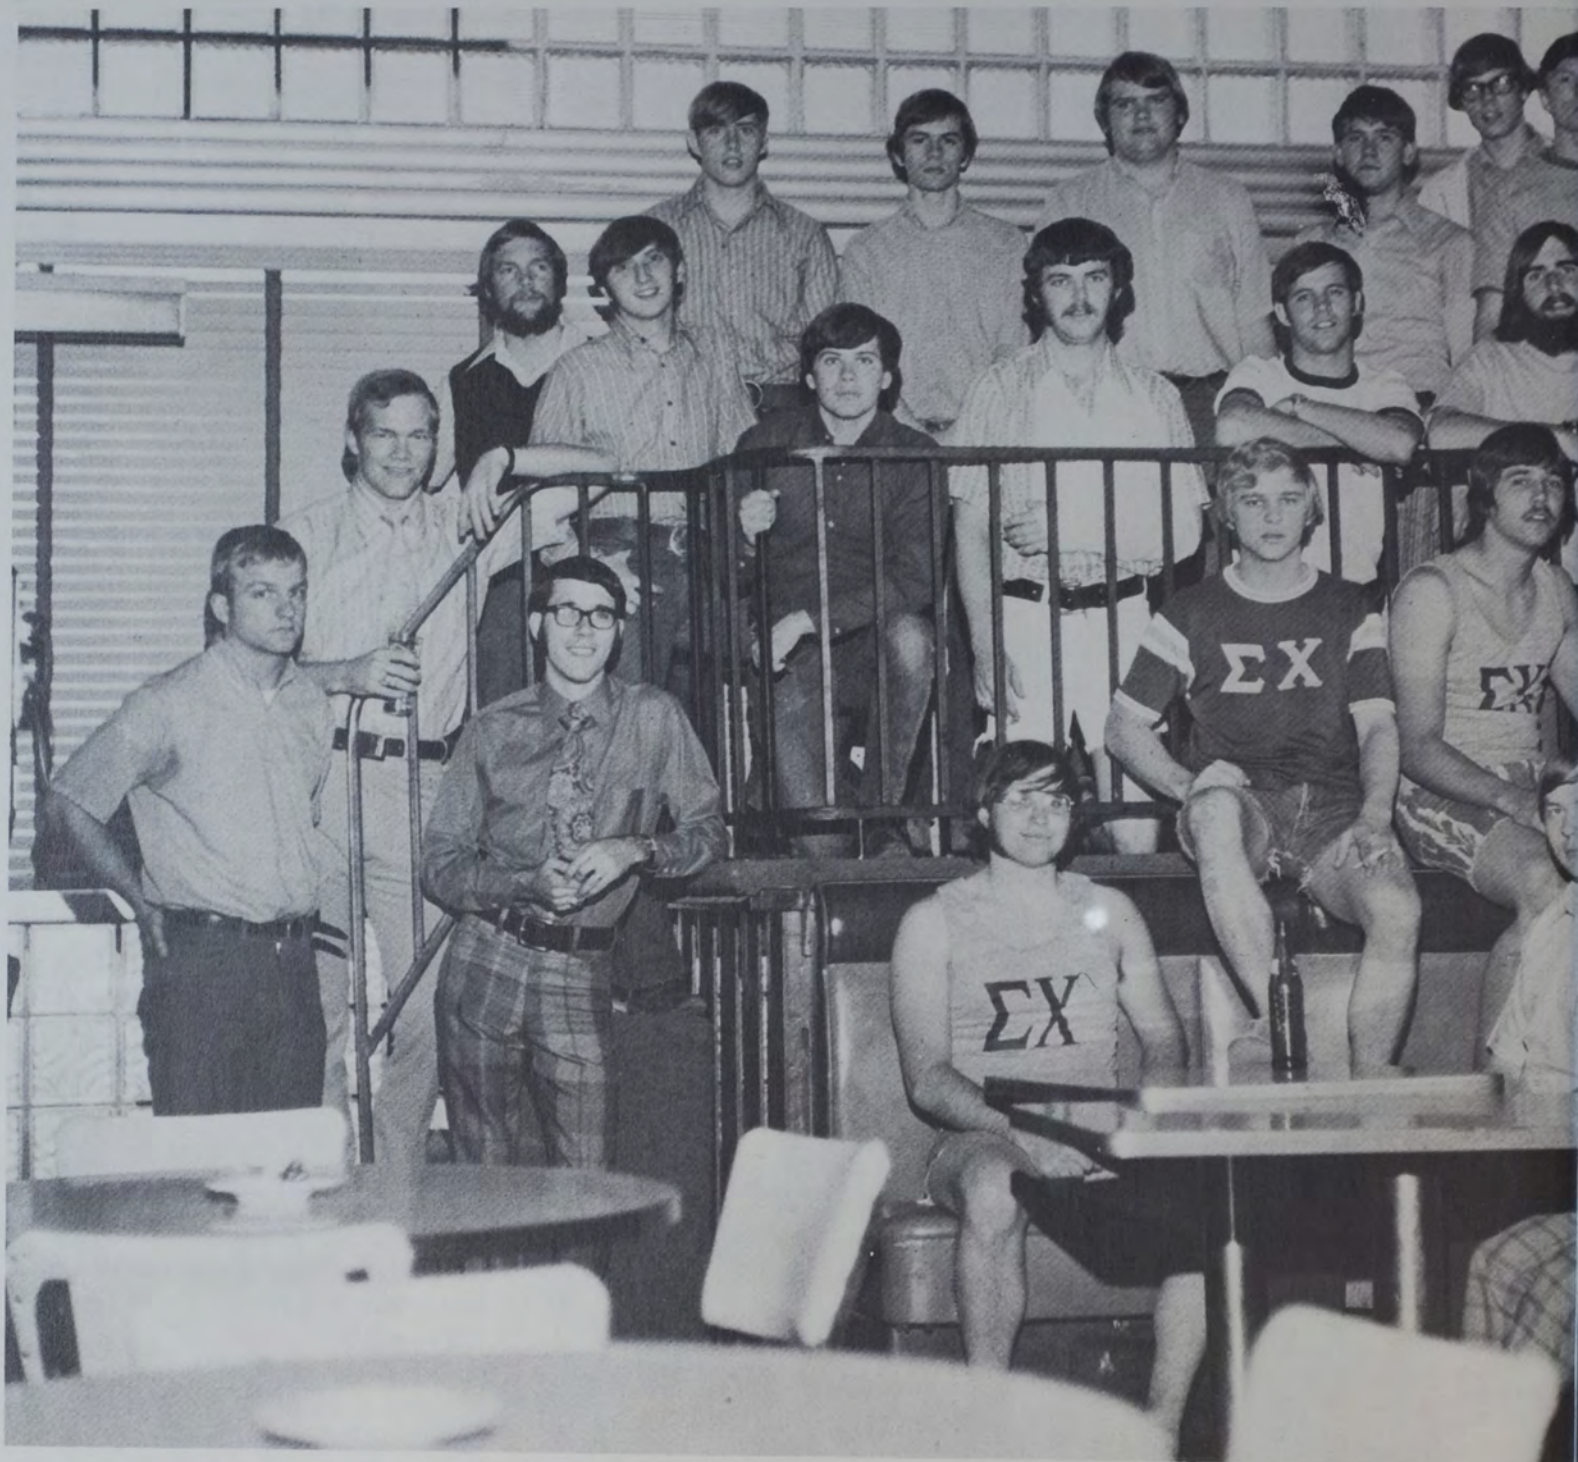

Mrs. Eva Brandt assumed the role of housemother for these men. Mike Estes was recognized as one of 15 RMAC Scholar-Athlete Award winners. Delegates attended the national conclave in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

During the Hays elections, the chapter offered rides to the polls. The Phi Sigs aided ecology and their treasury by collecting discarded pop and beer bottles and cans which were then redeemed for money.

Whether it was in intramurals, a campus club, or a voluntary effort, the Phi Sigs were actively involved.

ΣΧ

The 1970-1971 school year brought with it some outstanding achievements by members of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Annual events, such as the Thanksgiving canned food drive to aid needy families in Hays and Derby Days to raise money for Wallace Village in Colorado, are examples of Sigma Chi's charitable activities.

John Petty held the post of Student Senate president — the second time in three years a Sigma Chi has filled the position. Several of the fraternity brothers were also staffers on The Leader.

In the April Furlough, the men captured first place in the bicycle race. Sigma Chi also distinguished itself by receiving the scholarship title for the 11th time in the last 14 semesters.

Showing themselves to be a concerned and active part of Fort Hays, Sigma Chi fraternity can be proud.

ΣK

Sigma Kappa sorority is a busy group of girls at Fort Hays State. Its members serve in many organizations as well as invest their time in charitable projects.

For the kids at the Day Care Center, the Sigma Kapps entertained with a Halloween party. Underprivileged children were treated to Christmas and Easter parties. And the folks at Hillcrest Manor were also visited by these gals.

As a moneymaking project, the Kappas held a Casino party. The "Novelty on Wheels" Award went to this sorority for their entry in the 1970 Homecoming.

Mary Harbin was president of Women's Leadership Organization.

Sigma Kappa found energy to participate in many activities and as a result, will not be forgotten.

TKE

Located just a short distance from campus, Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity now sports adjacent houses on West Eighth.

Several weekends of cleaning the roadside from Hays to Munjor was the TKE service project. In Union bowling, the Tekes rolled to a first place win in the Frats and Rats League.

Once again the men donned costumes as the Golden Girls performed for half time of a Tiger basketball game.

Informal Toga and Pajama parties helped the men relax from studying.

In all their endeavors, the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon have shown themselves to be industrious.

ΣΤΓ

A shortened academic year did not decrease the amount of fun, work and enthusiasm of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

Keeping up their tradition of active participation in campus activities, the Sig Taus shared a first place tie in Greek football as well as the title in the Beauty and the Beast Contest, co-sponsored with Delta Zeta. Sig Tau's entry in the Best Dressed Coed Contest, Kathy McGovern, earned first runner-up; and in the ten-state Sig Tau Basketball Tourney at Pittsburg, the local men won third place. In April All Star Wrestling was introduced to Hays by this Greek organization.

Several members distinguished themselves by being included in Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities, while the whole group placed in Who's Who of Greek Fraternities and Societies of America.

As is obvious, the Sig Taus can be considered an integral part of the Fort Hays Campus.

ΣΣΣ

Known commonly as the "Tri Sigs," the gals of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority generated much energy in their endeavors.

For their national service project, the Tri Sigs held a shoe shine and a stationery sale to aid hospitals caring for children with polio.

The 1971 Homecoming Spirit Award went to these girls and the men of Alpha Kappa Lambda and Delta Sigma Phi fraternities.

President Stephanie Stewart was voted one of the three Outstanding Senior Women; Kathy McGovern reigned as Furlough Queen; and Gloria Mitchell starred in a Fort Hays opera for the second year in a row.

Scholarship was not neglected as the actives broke the college panhellenic record with a 2.01 overall grade point average.

Keeping all this in mind, Tri Sigs have certainly shown that they, too, are a part of Fort Hays State.

and the DAUGHTERS of the GOLDEN HEARTS

A combined team of guys and gals makes life interesting for the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and the women of the Daughters of the Golden Heart, Sig Ep's auxiliary.

Ten months of devotion paid off as the chapter acquired first place in intramurals with titles in basketball, tennis, bowling, golf, Ping-Pong, softball, and badminton.

Dave Tarrant was elected to the post of Student Senate president for the 1971-72 school year while serving as vice-president this past year.

Informal and formal gatherings have given the men ample opportunity to enjoy the Golden Hearts, several of whom this year achieved the first three places in the Miss Fort Hays State Pageant.

By demonstrating their talents, Sigma Phi Epsilon and the Daughters of the Golden Heart add vitality to Fort Hays.

a. Camping out means fun and favorable weather for the Fort Hays Industrial Arts Club.
 b. Drinking a "Coke" and studying are sights often seen and practiced in the Union throughout the year.

Last year when I began going through yearbooks I noticed that almost every editor used this page to lament the headaches of his job. I swore that I wouldn't. Instead I would like to express what being editor has done for me. I have met many wonderful people and gained a little from each one. Maybe it was through them that I have changed from a naive, carefree girl to an observing, searching, questioning, and active human being. I look back on the year and I like what I see.

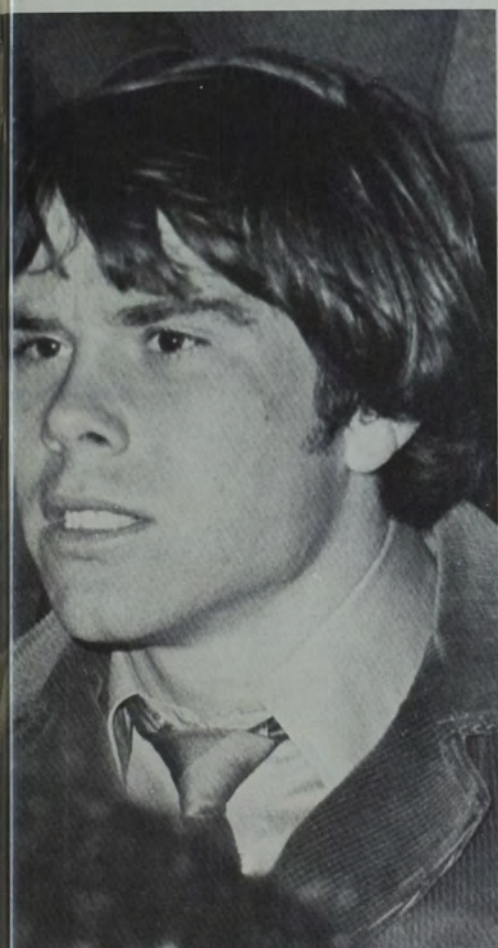

This book is not my work, but that of many, many people; 15 of them on this campus. This year's staff has got to be one of the most faithful and hardworking groups ever to produce a book. They are probably why I don't have the headaches to complain about. Thanks to you 15 for that, to Mrs. Rogers (our adviser) for your patient guidance and to Mr. Jackson and his four photographers.

Also, thanks to you, the many Faces of Fort Hays who have helped us capture the events of this year in the 1971 Reveille.

Editor
